OVERVIEW

Our consultancy services are tailored to the needs of each client we work with. We work on individual, targeted and whole organisation levels. Our consultants come from a range of education and health backgrounds in order to support all areas of need within a setting.

TCT's consultants can work on an identified targeted area in addition to identifying the wider requirements of an organisation. We will support you at each stage of the process and help you to identify strengths and any areas to address. Additional consultancy and/or follow-on training is also available to further assist development.

Consultancy will be delivered by one of our friendly therapists, all of whom have extensive experience of providing support for both education and healthcare professionals, backed with years of experience and working knowledge.
