Training from TCT

OVERVIEW

We offer a wide range of high quality, fun and accessible training services and Continuing Professional Development (CPD). Training is available in person or online. Training content is designed to support, develop and motivate. We can help improve knowledge and understanding of SEN, plus strategies and realistic advice. You will gain practical ideas, recommendations and suggestions to implement immediately to support children and young people in a variety of environments.

Our specialist team can create bespoke training for specific requirements as needed. We also have a large catalogue of popular lectures and workshops readily available. Training sessions are as interactive and fun as possible, with plenty of opportunities for sharing experiences, advice and support with other attendees.

Our training team

Your training will be led by one of our friendly therapists, all of whom have extensive experience of providing training for both education and healthcare professionals. Many of TCT's team lecture around the UK, with audience size varying from small informal groups to large conferences .

Content is specialist, up to date and practical being based on their years of experience and working knowledge.
